

Human Civilization Time Capsule

In order to provide funding for the Global Asteroid Protection Society we have devised the Human Civilization Time Capsule (HCTC) which will be a time capsule of human achievement and genealogy. We welcome individuals to make written submissions, provide pictures, video and/or audio to their own biography. We will collect all this information and make it part of a massive database on all human civilizations/history which spans the course of human history.

We will provide a means for long term storage of this information and deploy this as a probe into space. The probe will be armored and designed to be self-sufficient for the longest possible time. The probe may be the only remnants of your family's history or the planet's history in the event of a major asteroid impact.

To sign up for this once in a life-time opportunity, please choose your plan below. 50% of your donation will go to help build up operational capacities of the Global Asteroid Protection Society.
